really at that time Allen Dulles, General Cabell, and Bissell.

many years, all my life. But when I was down here at that time

Mr. Baron. Was it your general impression that this was

I knew he had a high position in the CIA, and was in charge a high level meeting -- a sufficiently high level meeting so of all this sort of stuff, and he was at a number of meetings that Allen Dulles might have been in attendance?

there, or even at the White House. He was an advisor to Mr.

Mr. Dillon. He could have been.

Dulles. So I say that is very likely.

Mr. Baron. By this sort of stuff would you mean covert

Mr. Baron. And are there any other people who would have actions?

been likely candidates to have been in attendance at the meeting?

Mr. Dillon. Covert actions or anything that was important

Mr. Dillon. I imagine there must have been some representative of the military there. But I don't know who it would enough in that general field to involve Mr. Dulles, the CIA, have been. But there must have been someone else if the the President. He was a person there, one of the people that

Secretary of Defense was there. Now, Erwin, since was talked to about it. There were three people. There were he didn't allow these things, he might have been there. That is just supposition.
