Korea Station wishes to express its appreciation to James S. Woods for his most diligent performance of duty during his recent TDY here. His highly cooperative attitude and above all, his extreme eagerness to get a job done well and expeditiously.

It was largely with his help that Korea Station was able to screen and process the voluminous material which needed to be handled in order to establish a consolidated and integrated record and file maintenance system.

All Korea Station personnel connected with the work of the TDY Team rendered more imposed and justified by the emergencies with which they contended in detail and helped with problems that were outside the responsibilities of their assigned tasks. Their pleasant manner, by suggestion, their excellent cooperation and untiring efforts to complete more than the initially envisioned workload, all earned a most favorable impression which reflects much credit not only on the team members themselves but on the Joycelyn Institution as well.
