The Special Unit of the LAPD, according to Hoyes, discounted the information regarding the RFK assassination, but was indeed impressed by the Braden connection to the 1963 assassination. Hoyes writes that Judge Byrne never heard any more about it after he forwarded the information to the RFK investigators.

Later, Attorney General John Mitchell selected Byrne to be Executive Director for the Scranton Commission that investigated student unrest several years ago. Following his work for the Scranton Commission, U.S. Attorney Byrne was appointed U.S. District Court Judge by President Nixon, the position he held at the time of the Ellsberg trial.
